Samie peered into the distance with turquoise waters and blue skies as her outlook and sat on wooden decking in photos captioned: "Long time no sea x."

Fans were in awe, with one fan writing: "Wow wow wow 🧡💖," and another penned: "Omg obsessed !!!"

A third echoed: "You look insane" and others were quick to call Samie "hot" in the comments.

But Samie's Maldives trip hasn't been all blue skies and sunshine, with the brunette beauty previously sharing a downside to the trip.

LOVE & HATE Love Island's Samie Elishi finally breaks silence on romance with Tom...

Posing with a pal by a luggage conveyor belt, Samie and her friend held up peace signs as the Love Island star wrote: "The look of 2 girls that have lost their luggage."

But despite the mishap, Samie appears to have put the luggage drama behind her and has shared snaps of herself enjoying drinks and meals out in the luxury place she's staying - Kandima Maldives.

Samie's trip away comes after a tough time for the star, after she underwent thyroid surgery.

The former estate agent co-ordinator recently showed her scar following her Hemithyroidectomy operation.

Samie, who had driven to see her pal Abi, told the camera: "We have just got some really good news, my surgeon has just called me and said that the lump in my neck is not cancerous and it's just a benign tumour.

"So we have Prosecco to celebrate," to which her pal replied: "Cheers to that!"

Later on in the video, in a scene which saw her applying her make-up, Samie continued: "I just wanted to close off the vlog on the highest note ever.

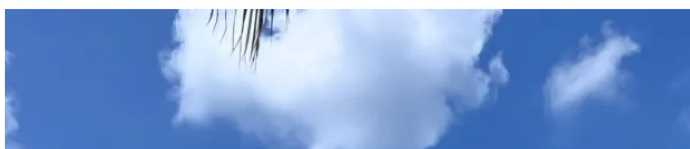

"I was just so happy when my surgeon called me yesterday.

"It was a bit overwhelming I was in so much shock - bless him to call me directly as well, I just think that was so nice of him, he didn't have to do that.

"But yeah the worry is now over and the lump is out."
